Some clues' wordplay generates an extra letter. The remaining clues contain a misprint (except for one instance, all misprints are in the definition). In clue order, the misprints describe what must be done with the other clues and their entries.

Good luck!

Note: This is an English-style 'advanced cryptic' like the Listener or those published by The Magpie. There are plenty of resources online about how to solve cryptic crosswords that may be of assistance to solvers.
